Detail

The Bachelor of Arts is an undergraduate degree consisting of a minimum of 69 credit points, taught in English, which normally takes three years of full-time study or part-time equivalent. The program is flexible, combining a required major area of study with the opportunity to engage with a broad range of units from across the university. Admission requirements are normally based upon proven skills to undertake tertiary study. In the case of undergraduate programs this is generally determined by successful completion of secondary studies or by alternative pathways for non-current school leavers.
